New Richmond met Rhinelander at 11 o'clock this morning, the winner of which was to battle Fond du Lac for the championship tonight.

MADISON, Wis.—La Crosse High was eliminated from the championship race of the state high school basketball tournament here Friday night in a speedy game against New Richmond, winner of the River Falls tournament. The final score was 29 to 17.

The River city five was completely outclassed by the flashy playing of the New Richmond stars, all of whom were small but sturdy players. Only for a few minutes at the start of the game was the La Crosse quintet in the lead.

As soon as the New Richmond five got under way the game was all theirs, the first half ending La Crosse 9, New Richmond 13.

Pair of Stars

The playing of Williams, forward, and Hawkins, guard, was a revelation to the fans who crowded the gymnasium. The flashy pair contributed six baskets each and played the floor like veterans. Largely because of the two men, both of whom are small, the New Richmond five is a favorite to win the tournament. Final games will be played Saturday.

Tobias again starred for La Crosse, with his aggressive floor play and three baskets, although he relinquished scoring honors to Harget who scored two from the floor and had an unerring eye from the free throw line, which netted him six more points.

Rhinelander, which drew a bye and did not play Friday will be the New Richmond five's opponent at 11 a. m. Saturday in the championship fight.

The winner will play Fond du Lac in the final game at 8:30.

Full Creek and Superior will battle at 10 a. m. in the semi-finals of the consolation fight. The winner will play Argyle for the consolation title at 7:30 p. m. Saturday.

HOPPE ARRIVES IN CHICAGO TONIGHT FOR MATCH MONDAY

Championship 18.02 Balkline Game to Open at Orchestra Hall Monday

CHICAGO, Ill.—Willie Hoppe, accompanied by Charles C. Peterson and a number of St. Louis billiard fans, will arrive Saturday night for the world's 18-2 balkline championship 1,500 round match with champion Jake Schaefer which will start Monday night at Orchestra hall.

Friday Peterson wired to R. B. Benjamin, manager of Hoppe, advising him on finishing touches in grand style. His runs this morning were 225 and 200 and his average 125.

This means nothing to Champion Schaefer, one of the most nonchalant champions the game has had. He has been putting on the finishing touches at Leffingwell's, and the only information volunteered by his manager, Charley Tenness, is that Jake has been working on "tough shots."

Jake Greatest of All

Tenness, who managed the elder Schaefer and was intimately acquainted with all the great players of bygone days, asserts that young Jake is beyond a doubt the greatest player of all time, and is willing to back him to the limit.

Efforts have been made in some quarters to describe the principals as being temperamental. But Hoppe is one of the most phlegmatic stars the game has known, and Schaefer has about the same temperament as his famous father, who was willing at any time to play for "marbles, money, or chalk."

Topic of Conversation

Around the billiard halls the match is a main topic of conversation, and at the big clubs there is plenty of discussion on the probable outcome. Seats are on sale at orchestra hall.

During the course of a major league season one sees a lot of peculiar happenings.

No one is in a better position to note these things than the umpires, who are constantly shifting from team to team.

One thing that struck me as being out of the ordinary last year was the debut made by Pitcher Kolp of the Browns.

Wildness is always the prevailing fault of every recruit. This is usually very apparent when they make their debut. Kolp was so different his week stood out.

The recruit got his first chance against the Cleveland team, which had won the world's series the previous year, and were serving world's champions across their shirt fronts.

The fame of the Indians didn't seem to worry Kolp in the least, as far as his control was concerned. Every ball that he threw was either a called strike, a foul strike or a ball which the batter swung and either missed or hit.

Not a single called ball was thrown by Kolp until Joe Sewell, who was the sixth batter in the lineup, faced him. It was one of the most remarkable bits of pitching I have ever seen as far as control was concerned.

A few weeks later I saw the Detroit team place on the field one of the most unique lineups in the history of the game. I have reference to the number of left handers used by the Tigers.

Ordinarily if a club happens to have five or six left handers in the batting order it is supposed to be top heavy with that style of batting. Such a team is considered soft picking for a southpaw.

In this particular game it was evident that a right hander was certain to work against the Tigers. Such being the case the following lineup was used by Detroit:

Pop Young led off, with Bush, Cobb, Veach, Schaefer, Jones, Blair, Kauter and Leonard following. It was a team made up entirely of left-handed batters. I seriously doubt if such a thing has ever before happened in the majors.

Of the nine left-handed batters, Bush, Young and Blair are able to shift to the right side of the plate and be effective. However, all three prefer to hit left-handed.

BEGGING THE QUESTION

Begging the question is assuming a proposition which, in reality, involves the conclusion. Thus, to say that parallel lines will never meet because they are parallel, is simply to assume as a fact they very thing that you profess to prove.

DISCRIMINATION

A salesman recently told the River street magistrate that no screening is allowed nowadays in Covert Garden Market. This exclusion of all golfers, mowmen and spring-cleaning victims is surely rather drastic.—Punch (London).

FUN AND BEAUTY COMBINE IN BIG OPERATIC REVUE

Famous Singers and Dancers Vie With Comedians for Honors in Dunbar Show

Lorna Doone Jackson has fulfilled the predictions of many hereabouts who heard her in "Robin Hood" and "Carmen," and has won her way to the top through vocal ability, personality, sheer cleverness and winsomeness. The St. Louis Municipal Opera Association has signed her at a four-figure salary for next summer's season in feature roles. In the meantime, she's having the time of her life in the rollicking "Opera Follies" which comes to the La Crosse for matinee and night shows, Sunday.

Miss Jackson's charm as a farceur is now revealed in a burlesque of Sousa's "Band," then again in three topical scenes with the band the fun-makers are literally "all over the place," with a regular Elsie Janis aplomb.

For her final bit, the company carries the full second act of "Carmen," Miss Jackson doing the wonderful "Seguidilla" and dance followed by a burlesque of the famous bull fight scene with Howard and Williams, the eccentric comedians, and the entire company, transforming real grand opera into a travesty which is nothing less than memorable.

Among the special features is the "Ballet des Artistes" by the Rigid Dancers, elaborately staged and consumed and participated in by a coterie of unusual performers. It is a miniature "Carnival Fair" replete with a Greenwich Village setting, danced and enacted by a group of brilliant ballet and character dancers representing the French, Italian and Russian schools. The contingent is headed by Grace Fenimore Copper, one of the leading dance artists of the present day. Her "Golly Wee" and "Snowflake" dances are truly delightful exhibitions of terpsichorean art. Their "Indian Fantasy," "Española," and "La Valse" are brand new interpretive dance creations which under the spotlight are sensationally effective.

LEGLESS HERO OF ARGONNE PERFORMS AT THE MAJESTIC

Was an Acrobat Before He Enlisted and He Still is on the Job

There's a good human interest story to be woven about one of the actors who is coming to the Majestic Sunday in the big vaudeville bill in which Tris Friganza is headlined. It's a story about "The boy who came back"—Aldine, of Aldine and Wright. Mr. Aldine lost his leg in the battle of Argonne Forest. He went overseas with Company G, 165th regiment, the old 68th Regiment of New York, better known as the Fighting Irish. Mr. Aldine was an aerial artist before entering the service, and of course, being thoroughly familiar with the work decided to continue as he learned after a few trials that the loss of his leg did not in the least hinder his cleverness in performing. The regular routine of feats generally exhibited by an aerial artist. On the contrary he found that he could accomplish many new and rather difficult stunts which he has added to his list.

Miss Wright, his pretty partner is a skillful and graceful aerialist who adds much to the presentation of the offering, "Nocturnal Wonders" as a whole is a distinctively clever exposition of the Roman Ring.

NINE MINERS DEAD AND NINE MISSING AFTER EXPLOSION

Rescue Crews Work all Night to Locate Men Imprisoned in Mine

TRINIDAD, Col.—Nine men are known to have perished and nine others were missing early Saturday as a result of an explosion in Sopris Mine No. 2 of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company, near here, Friday. Nine bodies have been recovered. Rescue crews worked all night in efforts to rescue the other nine men imprisoned in the mine if they were still alive, or to recover their bodies if they were dead. According to company officials the eighteen dead and missing men were the only ones in the mine when the explosion came. The day shift had left the mine a few minutes before the accident, the officials said.

WALLIE REID—RIVOLI

Wallace Reid's new Paramount picture, "Rent Free," which closes today at the Rivoli Theater marks the beginning of the directorial career of Howard Higgin who for many years was production manager for Cecil B. De Mille. Lila Lee plays opposite the star and Henry Barrows, Gertrude Short, Lillian Leighton, Clarence Geldart, Claire McDowell and Lucien Littlefield are also in the cast.

An interesting scene is a set built upon the roof of one of the studio buildings, the set itself representing the top of a New York apartment house. It is here that the star, in the story, finds refuge after being driven right out on the roof of his own apartment by an irate landlady. Journeying over the roofs, he finally "squares" in a fine home, the owner being away, and takes possession and meets "the girl." Lila Lee is the girl.

Mixed "All this oratory has got me a little mixed."

"Do I belong to the bourgeois class or am I one of the proletariat?"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

HERBERT RAWLINSON — MAJESTIC

Herbert Rawlinson, who stars in "The Millionaire," now at the Majestic Theater puts the rich man's duty in a far different light than it customarily takes. Mr. Rawlinson has the part of a young fellow who is apparently worth just twelve dollars a week to the world when suddenly the death of a miserly old man who had once loved the young clerk's mother brings eighty millions in place of the twelve.

The young man sets about ridding the world of a gang of crooks who had murdered the old man, not bothering his head about charity, foolish schemes or sensational pleasure. In contrast, the old man's life had been spent in unceasing attention to money alone, with thoughts of human usefulness wholly excluded. The old man's life had been one extreme—the young fellow's not the other extreme, but the happy medium where sanity rules.

RIVIERA TODAY With Mae Murray in the stellar role of "Peacock Alley," which comes to the Riviera Theater today motion picture fans will have the opportunity to see this beautiful star of stage and screen in one of the most elaborate productions. The story of a Parisian dancer who falls in love with a small town American youth and finds her husband's people scandalized when she goes back to his home, resulting in the couple seeking their fortunes in New York, is one which gives Miss Murray unusual opportunity.

You Will Agree With Us When we state that FUNKER'S OLD STYLE CHOCOLATES outsell any package candy in this city.

Large and small manufacturers have tried and still are trying to equal them but there is a certain quality of richness and smoothness in Funker's Old Style Chocolates which took years of experience together with the very choicest ingredients to perfect.
